

Dear NCYS Supporters,

The National Council of Youth Sports is thrilled to be a promotional partner of an incredible new documentary film called IN SEARCH OF GREATNESS, from award-winning filmmaker Gabe Polsky. Polsky is best known for his previous sports doc, RED ARMY, one of the best-reviewed films of 2015.

The film is a cinematic journey into the secrets of genius, told through the eyes of the greatest athletes of all time: Wayne Gretzky, Pelé, Jerry Rice, and Serena Williams, among others. The film contains bold, positive and inspiring messages for young athletes, like the importance of unstructured play and creativity, and how to embrace failure.

We strongly encourage you to see the film opening weekend, Nov 2nd, and to use it as an opportunity to discuss these critical ideas in youth athletic development. We hope you enjoy it as much as we do!

Sincerely,
National Council of Youth Sports
